

EMD – Enzensberger Multimedia Development

VNSFileSource

1.2

Overview:

VNSFileSource filter is special DirectShow file source filter which is able to read an Mpeg2 stream while this stream is currently recorded by other application/process .

Use this filter to seamless playback Mpeg2 streams in same time while this stream is currently recorded.

The stream size is dynamically updated as long as recording process is running.
See the VNSFileSource filter property page to view current values.

